

For Immediate Release

RI CWRT to Host Talk by Historic Landscape / Preservation artist Jeff Fioravanti.

Providence, RI — on Wednesday, May 19, 2004, at 7:00 PM, at the William H Hall Free Public Library, 1825 Broad Street, Cranston, RI, the Rhode Island Civil War Roundtable will host a talk by nationally recognized and award winning historical landscape / preservation artist Jeff Fioravanti.

Fioravanti's topic for the May 19th talk at the RICWRT will focus not only on his art in general, but the influences that have lead him to develop and create a collection of works featuring the historical landscapes of our nation. But perhaps most importantly, Fioravanti will highlight and speak on his involvement with several historical/preservation organizations, and how his talents have come to be utilized by these groups to aid in their efforts to protect and preserve our national heritage.

Some of the groups with which Fioravanti has been involved and/or continues to assist include, The North Shore Civil War Roundtable (Lynn, MA, project: Post 5 GAR Hall maintenance program), The Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association, (Gettysburg, PA, project: The Daniel Lady Farm) The Land Conservancy of Adams County (Gettysburg, PA, project: annual auction to benefit Land Conservancy programs), The Museum of the Confederacy, (Richmond, VA. project: annual auction to benefit museum programs/operation) and the National Museum of Civil War Medicine (Frederick, MD, project: art exhibition to benefit the programs/operation of the museum) as well as many other similar organizations.

For additional information about this event, please contact the Rhode Island Civil War Roundtable at: Rhode Island Civil War Roundtable P.O. Box 40712 Providence, RI 02940, or via their web site at: <http://hometown.aol.com/batrinque/RICWRT.html>

For additional information about Jeff Fioravanti, or view his work, please visit <http://www.fioravanti-fineart.com>, or contact him at (781) 595-5961, via email at, jfiorava@concentric.net, or via US mail at, 49 Pennybrook Road, Lynn, MA 01905-1012.