7th Annual “Impressions of New England” Art Exhibit to Include Works by Artist Jeff Fioravanti

Lynn, MA (August 31, 2006) – Artist Jeff Fioravanti announced today that his works entitled "Two Dories" and "Yellow Dory" will be included in the 7th Annual “Impressions of New England” art exhibit, sponsored by the Bennington Center for the Arts, September 15, - December 17, 2006. The exhibit is on display and open to the public Tuesday – Sunday, 10:00 AM – 5:00 PM, with an artist's reception, from 4:00 – 7:00 PM on Friday, October 13, 2006.

The exhibition, which features work by many well known artists from through out the United States, offers the art enthusiast and collector, the opportunity to view and purchase some of the finest works of art depicting the distinctive seashores, streams and landscapes of New England.

Fioravanti, who is listed in Marquis’ “Who’s Who in America,” is a member of several nationally recognized and respected art associations. Possessing signature membership in three of the most prestigious pastel societies in America including, “The Pastel Society of America, New York, NY”, “The Connecticut Pastel Society, Meriden, CT” and “The Pastel Painters Society of Cape Cod, Barnstable, MA”, the artist is noted for his common man, evocative and touching treatment of his subjects. He continues to gain notoriety for his series of works featuring the pristine landscapes important to the foundation of our nation including the “Hallowed Ground” of America’s Civil War.
